BAD SPECULATION CAUSED FAILURE

John R. Knight, Head of Bankrupt Cotton Firm, Takes Stand.

FIRM'S LOSSES $2,500,000

Declared the Firm Had Been Practically Bankrupt Since 1905—Asked About Personal Financial Condition.

Birmingham, Ala., June 2.—John R. Knight, head of the bankrupt cotton firm of Knight, Yancey & Co., which recently failed for nearly $6,000,000, took the stand today for the first time since the meetings of creditors began.

Mr. Knight said the firm had been practically bankrupt since 1905, except for short periods during 1907 and 1908. He said the firm's failure was due almost entirely to unfortunate speculation in cotton, all of which was carried on in the firm's name. He said that the firm's losses on cotton futures during the past season was less than two and a quarter million dollars.

The attorneys seemed to lay considerable stress on the firm's connection with Steele, Miller & Co., of Corinth, Miss., which was also recently declared bankrupt. The witness said there was nothing more than agreement between the two firms to use "unaccepted" drafts on each other. He said there was no collateral actually attached to the drafts.

As to his personal financial condition, the witness said he had not drawn any money to amount to anything from the firm for several months.

At the conclusion of his testimony, Referee Murphy adjourned the hearing until the third Saturday in June. Mr. Knight was notified to be present at the next meeting.

AUTOIST SENT TO JAIL.

Son of Senator Guggenheim Fined and Imprisoned.

New York, June 2.—For a wedding present to young Edmund A. Guggenheim, a son of Senator Simon Guggenheim, of Colorado, the court of general sessions gave him today a fine of $100 and a sentence of one day in jail.

Through his counsel young Guggenheim had pleaded guilty to a third violation of the automobile speed law. He had no defense to offer, yet he asked that sentence be suspended and promised that, if such should be the judgment of the court, he would never drive an automobile in this State again. It was further urged that he is to be married next Monday and that he is a Yale graduate and that a prison would be an unnecessary humiliation to his bride to be and his family. The court turned a deaf ear. The young millionaire's imprisonment, however, proved nothing unbearable.

Sentence was at 3:15 P. M. Ten minutes later the prisoner had crossed the bridge of sighs to the Tombs, at 4 P. M. the legal day ends. His total period of incarceration, therefore was just 35 minutes.

By courtesy of the warden, he was allowed to spend the 35 minutes in the counsel's room.

FIGHT NO FRAME-UP.

Jeffries Would Call It Off and Return to His Ranch.

Ben Lomond, Cal., June 2.—"For two pins, I'd pack up and take my family back to the ranch and call the whole thing off," declared James J. Jeffries today when he read a story quoting Gov. Gillett as saying the Jeffries and Johnson fight was a frame-up, and arranged for the white man to win.

He added: "Those who have seen me working, must know that my heart and soul are in the coming scrap, and it doesn't stand to reason that I would break my neck working if everything were settled for me to win.

"I quit the fight game once because I did not care for those connected with it, or the knockers who were continually rapping it."

The camp was in a turmoil until the story was declared untrue by the Governor himself.

Frank Gotch, wrestling champion, will arrive the latter part of next week. He sent the following message to Jeffries today:

"Well, old boy, I saved one championship and I know you will hold the other. Will join you right away after June 7th, when I must attend the Iowa primaries."

BROKERAGE HOUSE FAILS.

Neugass, Morales & Co., of New Orleans, Closed Doors Yesterday.

New Orleans, June 2.—Claiming they could not stand the pressure following the recent slump in the stock and cotton markets the local brokerage house of Neugass, Morales & Co., (Inc.) has closed its doors. The suspension became effective Thursday morning. According to F. R. Mead, acting manager of the house, the New York and St. Louis houses which Neugass, Morales & Co., represented are responsible for the liquidation of the local firm. It was announced by the management that all creditors would be paid in full.

FOLK MAY SEEK THE PRESIDENCY

Missouri Governor Announces Principles for Democratic Party.

SPOKE AT MISSOURI DINNER

Law Enforcement Will be His Slogan. Democrats of All Factions Present—Thievery and Graft in the Country.

St. Louis, Mo., June 2.—Missouri Democrats of all factions at a dinner tonight heard former Governor Joseph Folk announce the principles on which it is said, he will seek the Presidential nomination in 1912. The dinner was in charge of men who have been promoting the boom of the former Governor.

"The doctrine of equal rights should be made a living, vital and controlling force in the government," said Mr. Folk, after he had listened to Democrats from all parts of the State tell the guests that the former Governor should be indorsed for the Presidency.

"The Democratic party", continued Mr. Folk, "should insist upon the stamping out of graft and corruption from every department of government; the eradication of all special favors, including bounties, subsidies and a tariff for many other purposes than revenue.

"We need the honest, sincere enforcement of the laws we already have and the regulation of the rates of public utility corporations upon a reasonable basis that justice may be done the people and a fair return of the amount actually invested be afforded."

On the subject of issues before the people, the former Governor said: "The great issue before the people of this country is, shall there be government by privilege for a class, or government by the people for all? This is a question within parties as well as between parties. The Republican party is dominated by special interests, and operates with them upon a profit sharing basis. We should not be oblivious to the fact, however, that we have Aldriches and Cannons in our own party and it is the duty of Democrats to lessen their influence as much as possible. We cannot prevent some of them being in the party, but we should keep them from running the party.

"A crisis has been reached in the affairs of the nation. Pick up a newspaper any day and you will find accounts of thievery and graft. What does it mean? Is corruption becoming a national disease? Is there something in our system of government that encourages men to violate the commandment, 'Thou shalt not steal'?

"Is not the government itself in a large sense to blame for this seeming general disposition? Has not the example which the government sets in enriching a few by taking from all by means of the protective tariff been an influence for corruption?

"With the example of the National government giving privileges to a few, there is encouragement afforded all forms of graft, for all graft is based upon privilege. Officials are not bribed to give equal rights to all, but to confer upon the few some privilege denied the many. The elimination of privilege is the fight confronting Democracy."

AFFRAY ON EXCURSION.

Morehead City Man Slashed on Train. That Newbern Clock.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Newbern, N. C., June 2.—Just after the excursion train which was run from Morehead City to Washington, N. C., yesterday had crossed over Neuse river bridge on its return trip, Mr. Thos. Styron, of Morehead City, was seriously cut on the throat with a knife in the hands of Ed Buck, a resident of the same county. Just how the trouble started could not be learned, as none of the excursionists could give any particulars, but it is supposed that Buck, who was under the influence of intoxicants, became offended at Mr. Styron's endeavors to quiet him, and unexpectedly attacked him with a large barlow knife. Friends of the injured man dressed his wounds as well as possible with the facilities at hand and upon the arrival of the train in this city medical attention was rendered him. Buck was arrested and placed under a bond of $100 for his appearance at a hearing next Monday afternoon.

The work of erecting the large electric clock that is being placed in the tower of the Federal building is rapidly progressing and the contractors hope to have everything in working order by the first of July. When completed this immense piece of machinery will be one of the largest of its kind in the State.

AUGUST BELMONT INJURED.

Thrown From Horse While Playing Polo—Badly Hurt.

New York, June 2.—August Belmont was thrown from his horse this afternoon while playing polo at the Meadow Brook Hunt Club. For a time there were many rumors that he had been seriously injured, but at his house it was said tonight that he had only been badly shaken up and that he would be about his business as usual in a day or so. At the Meadow Brook Club it was said that he had broken a wrist.

OVERMAN AMENDS RAILROAD BILL

Amendment Dealing With Injunctions Adopted in Senate Yesterday.

DEMOCRATS DELAY THE VOTE

Vote Postponed to Permit Democratic Conference on the Measure Today—Provision Regulating Wire Companies.

Washington, June 2.—But for the fact that Senator Overman, of North Carolina, succeeded in having the Senate incorporate in the railroad bill a provision regulating injunction proceedings effecting State laws, the Senate probably would have voted on the railroad bill before adjournment today.

The acceptance of that provision had the effect of inclining some Democratic Senators more favorably to the bill and of causing the Democratic side of the chamber to request an opportunity for consultation before reaching the voting stage on the final passage. Accordingly the vote was proposed to permit a Democratic conference which will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow.

After this agreement was reached, Senators Elkins and Hale endeavored to get the Senate to agree definitely to vote on the bill before adjournment tomorrow, but without success. Senators Bacon and Bailey made objection to a proposition cutting off debate in advance of the final vote, and when it appeared as if they might be conciliated, Senator Clapp entered positive objection to any arrangement whatever.

The bill was before the Senate during the entire day and a large number of amendment were presented and disposed of. Just before the adjournment for the day, Senator Elkins gave notice that at the proper time he would ask the Senate to substitute the Senate bill for the House bill.

He succeeded in having adopted an amendment postponing for 60 days after its passage the time when the proposed law shall go into effect.

The Overman provision covers a subject broader than transportation. It provides that no interlocutory injunction suspending or restraining the execution of any statute of a State by restraining the action of any officer of such State in the enforcement of such statute shall be issued by any Federal judge upon the ground of unconstitutionality, unless the application shall be presented to a justice of the Supreme Court or to a Circuit judge and shall be heard by three judges.

The only objection expressed to the amendment was that its operation would not be limited to railroads, but there was a considerable vote against it, the ballot resulting 33 ayes to 28 noes.

The provision heretofore adopted placing interstate telegraph and telephone lines under the supervision and control of the Interstate Commerce Commission was enlarged in compliance with a suggestion by Senator LaFollette, who presented the original amendment. As it now stands, it provides that telegraph and telephone charges shall be just and reasonable and it authorizes the commission to determine when they are not so. Special night rates and special rates on press dispatches are authorized. Telegraph passes are prohibited to all persons. The penalty for disobeying this provision is fixed at from $100 to $2,000.

The provision of Senator Hughes, of Colorado, giving to the shipper the right to choose a line competing with a part of the through route by which his shipment was billed, was accepted. It exempts the original carrier from all responsibility for damage sustained on other than its own line, however.

Mr. Simmons sought, though ineffectually to have his physical valuation provision inserted. It was voted down 30 to 32. Senator LaFollette failed in an effort to obtain for shippers the right to bring suit in the proposed court of commerce when there is a prospect that irreparable damage may be done by increased rates, pending the delay necessary to an investigation by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

TAFT ON HIGHER EDUCATION

Delivered Commencement Address at Bryn Mawr College—Advantages of Education to Women. Leaves for West.

Philadelphia, June 2.—President Taft delivered the annual commencement day oration today at Bryn Mawr College, where his daughter, Helen, is a student. Taking for his subject "Higher Education for Women", the President declared that he favored the higher education of women and said that he utterly dissented from the suggestion that higher education rather unfits them for the duties of a wife and mother.

The President further told them that he was ready to concede that marriage and motherhood are a normal status for women, and other things being equal, she is happier in that condition than in any other. But Mr. Taft added, life is not a failure because a woman has not married. One of the greatest advantages of the higher education for a woman, he said, is the independence that it gives her in the choice of kind of life which she is to lead.

President Taft reached here shortly before 11 o'clock from Washington. After his arrival his suit case containing his cap and gown were mislaid and he was obliged to deliver his address clothed in his traveling suit.

He left here at 5 o'clock this afternoon for Ada, Ohio, where tomorrow forenoon he will address the graduating class of the Ohio Northern University.

The missing suit case was discovered shortly before the President's departure, but before the train left he found that he had forgotten his overcoat. Secret service men made a hurried search for the missing garment, but were unable to recover it before the departure of the train for the West.

At the commencement exercises Miss M. Carey Thomas, president of the college, announced that the fund of $380,000 required to be raised by today in order to secure the $250,000 promised by the general education board, had been secured.

TAFT CONNERS OUT IN NEW YORK

Retires From Office of Chairman of Democratic State Committee—Succeeded by John A. Dix—Resolutions Passed.

New York, June 2.—To the accompaniment of bows, smiles and mutual felicitations William J. Conners, retired from office as chairman of the Democratic State Commitee today and John A. Dix, of Greenwich, Washington county, was elected in his place.

Arthur A. McLean, of Newburgh, was re-elected treasurer and John A. Mason, of New York, who has served as clerk for several years, was made secretary.

Everybody laughed when Conners stood up to turn over his office to the newly elected chairman.

"It's a good job you've got,' he said with a grin; "I hope you'll like it."

As soon as the meeting was opened the chairman asked the clerk to read a statement he had prepared.

Mr. Conners declared that any differences he had had with others during his incumbency of the office, had left no ranklings or resentment with him and that he would heartily cooperate in every way to promote the success of the State Democracy. He said that an exceptional chance for achieving success was presented to the Democratic party in this State this year, and he urged all present to do everything they could towards winning a victory.

After the statement had been read, Mr. Dix was unanimously chosen chairman. In taking the chair Mr. Dix told the committee that he proposed to be chairman of the whole party and not of any faction or section. He asked the co-operation of all his colleagues in insuring the success of his work as the committee's head.

After Mr. Dix had finished, Conners shook hands warmly with his successor while the whole committee applauded.

The committee in resolutions unanimously adopted arraigning the Republican party for the enactment of the "outrageously unfair tariff act," which was declared to be responsible for the present "excessive" and almost prohibitive cost of the necessaries of life" criticised Gov. Hughes for his opposition to the income tax amendment to the constitution and alluded to the defeat of the income tax proposition as "a striking example of the hypocrisy of the Republican party."

The retirement of Mr. Conners follows a meeting of the committee held in Albany last February to consider the question of his ejection. Conners denied that it was possible. Friends of Murphy said he had the votes to do it. Whether he had or not he did not use them. Conners made a public retraction of his criticisms of Murphy which rose, he said, from infirmaties of temper, and agreed to retire this Spring.

The new chairman is a grand son of the war governor of New York, John Adams Dix, for whom he was named. He is a Harvard man and a paper manufacturer. He fought Heart's nomination for governor at Buffalo in 1906 and bolted the head of the State ticket. He was the Democratic candidate ofr lieutenant governor in 1908 but was defeated with the rest of the ticket.

MORE RAILROADS PROPOSE INCREASE

Tariffs Embodying Higher Rates Filed With Commerce Commission.

EAST AND MIDDLE WEST LINES

Undaunted by Government's Action Against Western Trunk Lines. Shippers Will Fight Increase—Atty. General.

Washington, June 2.—Undaunted by the government's proceedings under the Sherman anti-trust act, by which a part of the proposed increase of freight rates in the territory west of the Mississippi river was suspended by injunction, railroads in the East and in the Middle West today filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission tariffs embodying increased rates.

Attorney General Wickersham declines to indicate what course he will pursue in behalf of the government and the Senate just on the verge today of passing the administration rate bill, hesitated, and finally postponed action until another day.

Tonight practically every railroad system in the North from the Atlantic to the Pacific had filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission the legal notification of proposed increases in commodity rates. The increases filed today range from three to 31 per cent.

The day started off by the filing of schedules of increases by the New York Central, the West Shore, and the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western. Then the official proposal of the roads, traversing the territory from Chicago and Milwaukee to Indianapolis and Ohio river points, 23 in all, was brought in to the commission. During the afternoon increased tariffs from the Atlantic seaboard to Chicago, St. Paul and intermediate points were filed. The latter tariffs included those from the Pennsylvania, the Baltimore & Ohio, the New York, New Haven & Hartford, the Boston & Maine, the Erie, the Delaware & Hudson, the Lehigh Valley, the New Jersey Central, the New York, Ontario & Western, and the Philadelphia & Reading.

The Baltimore & Ohio also filed with the commission a revised tariff of commodity from Chicago to the eastern seaboard.

The increases proposed by the roads in the Middle West range from six to 31 per cent. Those from the seaboard to the West varied from 3 to 20 per cent. The Baltimore & Ohio's increase on rates from Chicago to the seaboard about 10 per cent. These increases were figured approximately The time set for the increases to go into effect on the Eastern roads was generally July 5th. On the roads in the Middle West, July 1st, was the date fixed.

Before the revised tariffs began to pour into the offices of the commission, Attorney General Wickersham was receiving telegrams from Western shippers, asking him to take action to have the injunction, issued by the Federal court of Missouri, extended to other commodities, especially wool.

Replies were made that it was now too late. It was explained that the government included in the bill such rates as had been called to its attention and that the failure of other rates to be included must be laid at the door of the shippers.

As to the course of the government in regard to the railroads in the East and Middle West, the Attorney General was not ready to talk. Immediate action is not necessary inasmuch as the rates are not to go into effect for about a month.

It is believed the railroads will lose no time in filing any other tariffs, on account of the probability of the expected early passage of the administration railroad rate bill.

The bill in its present form gives the Interstate Commerce Commission power to investigate the reasonableness of proposed increases in rates and to suspend their going into operation as long as ten months.

SUCCESSOR TO NORTON.

A. Piatt Andrews Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

Washington, June 2.—A. Piatt Andrews, the present director of the mint, has been selected as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury to succeed Charles D. Norton, who has been made secretary to the President. President Taft will make the appointment which has been approved by Senators from Massachusetts, of which State Mr. Andrews is a resident.

Prof. Andrews assisted the National Monetary Commission in its work and with Senator Aldrich, the chairman of the commission, visited various important financial centers of Europe to collect information about foreign banking systems. He was charged with editing the commission's publications, which will comprise nearly two score volumes. The new Assistant Secretary has been a prominent writer on financial topics.

Mr. Andrew was appointed director of the mint last August. He is 37 years of age and a native of Indiana. Educated at Princeton and Harvard Universities, he also studied abroad.

RUINOUS TO SOUTH EFFECT OF BILL

Wilmington Chamber of Commerce so Declares as to Scott Measure.

FUTURE CONTRACT TRADING

Producer Would be at Mercy of Spot Dealer—Resolutions at Special Meeting Yesterday Afternoon—Railway Service.

Basing its action—believed to be the first of similar import by any commercial organization in the South—upon the statement that "since the time of Adam Smith the value of future contract trading for the marketing of annual crops and products has been an accepted theory and an established fact" and that despite possible abuses of administration, it cannot be doubted that the theory and practice have proved beneficial factors in the world's commercial development; declaring moreover that since the principle of future contract trading is price equation based on prospective supply as related to prospective demand for a protracted period, whereby a movement of the commodity is not the sole determining factor in price making and that without this system of marketing a commodity like cotton, the producer would be entirely at the mercy of the spot dealer and that fluctuations, if not so erratic, would during the year, measure wider variations with greater resultant loss to the grower, the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce yesterday adopted unanimously resolutions characterizing the Scott anti-option bill now pending in Congress a pernicious interference with commercial freedom and economic law and calling upon Senators and Representatives in Congress to examine carefully into the subject of future contract dealings and, if consistent with their conclusions, to oppose the enactment of the measure or any measure of similar import.

The action of the Chamber was unanimous and after favorable discussion by several of the members, who recognized in the measure dangerous possibilities, requiring the closest study. The meeting was called to order at 4 o'clock and was one of the most representative of the business interests held in some time. President J. A. Taylor, in calling the meeting to order, stated that it was for the purpose of considering the Scott bill now pending in Congress dealing with trading in cotton futures. He stated that he had lately given the bill much consideration and had prepared the following, which, after being read by Secretary J. A. McGeachy, was laid before the Chamber for its consideration:

Since the time of Adam Smith the value of future contract trading for the marketing of annual crops and products has been an accepted theory and established fact; and, on the whole, despite the abuses of administration, it cannot be doubted that the theory and practice have proved beneficial factors in the world's commercial development. It is no unknown thing to experience a revolt against a sound economic principle because of abuses incident to administration, and the present outcry against the cotton exchanges of this country is no doubt attributable to this fact.

The principle of future contract trading is price equation based on prospective supply as related to prospective demand for a protracted period, whereby movement of the commodity is not the sole determining factor in price-making for the time being. Without this system of marketing a commodity like cotton the producer would be entirely at the mercy of the spot dealer; and fluctuations, if not so erratic, would, during the crop year, measure wider variations with greater resultant loss to the grower. Spot dealers could combine to depress the spot market, and in the absence of speculative quotations for future delivery, based on prospective supply and demand, force producers to sell at ruinously low prices because of their inability to negotiate loans on their holdings. The result would be to put the market entirely at the mercy of spot dealers, whose large resources would enable them to buy up the cotton crop at their own prices and speculate on their holdings.

Thus, at one blow, would the producers be forced out of their holdings at unremunerative prices and the weaker spinners penalized by being forced to pay higher prices for their future supplies. Such a situation would be infinitely worse than any exchange abuses now complained of, and result in not only ruin to the producing class, but to the serious detriment of general commercial interest. Nor would a majority of the cotton mills escape the injurious effect of such a condition, because comparatively few of them are in position to finance their yearly supply of spot cotton, and being unable to protect their wants through future contracts, and being forced to rely upon the monopolized stocks in spot dealers hands for their future supplies. It is proverbial that mankind learns only through experience, but if the producers of cotton must learn the value of exchange through the experience of its virtual abolition, the knowledge would be

We decline most positively to have anything whatever to say in detail of that exhibition of near-ball at League Park yesterday afternoon. The oldest inhabitant does not remember its equal; it certainly should not be mentioned in polite society. Suffice it only to say that off of the three pitchers who mounted the sacrificial altar for the Sailor lads, Raleigh garnered a total of 14 runs and 23 hits, while the errors are too numerous to mention.

But reinforcements are on the way and let us hope for better things. Dick Smith is lending Brooks, a good twirler from the staff of the Lynchburg Virginians; Kluttz, the outfielder, is due to be in the game today; Kaiser, who was borrowed from Goldsboro, has been returned with thanks; Dobbs, a Villa Nova infielder, is expected tonight, and Mills is expected to join the team in Raleigh Monday. So, all told, the local prospect, is only just a little beyond the immediate future. At a late hour last night a corps of expert accountants had completed the tabulation of the doings on the diamond yesterday and, properly certified to, etc., it stands as follows:

FLUTTERS.

Positively, Pish!

And other words to that effect.

They sure were splitting hairs up in Wilson.

The Red Birds' hit column went clean out of its 'teens.

To our mind, it's a Rube doing the gold-bricking these days.

Wonder if Goldsboro will take Kelly back now? They won yesterday.

Tydeman continues to hit right along by himself, and play his man's sized game.

Good for Fayetteville! It didn't take the Kilties long to burst some of those Tobacco dreams.

The Birdies substantially fattened their respective batting averages as a result of the game.

Newspaper reports indicate they were about to "turn the hose" on some of the players at Wilson.

The error work has even gotten to the point where it's crept into the outfield. Let's break that up right now.

Curtiss' Albany-Gotham flight was tame alongside of some of those indulged in by the local slabmen yesterday.

Wilson got her's yesterday; and got it good. And that after all the blowing indulged in by the inhabitants of the Tobacco burg.

Rath jumped into the Phila-Boston double bill of Tuesday, covering third, and bingling .333 in the opener and .500 in the second affair, with no errors.

As long as we've got to lose to somebody, we'd rather it would be to Raleigh than anyone else—just now. She needs the wins almost as bad as we do ourselves.

The 33rd Bugs are eagerly watching the Philadelphia-New York race in the American, and the Chicago-New York run in the National League. Each one of the teams has been playing rapid ball of late.

Did Raleigh hit? No, no; they simply slashed, crashed, whacked, whaled, punched, walloped, soaked, jolted, bingled, swatted, thumped slapped, poled, flogged, cuffed, cudgeled, pasted, jostled, smote, drilled, drove, dumped, biffed, smacked, chopped, hammered, bludgeoned, rapped, nudged, slugged, nailed, lambasted, banged, shoved, poked, pelted, tapped, basted, belabored, clouted, maced, jogged, propelled, pushed, pumped the sphere. That's all.

WRESTLER GOTCH DELAYED.

Will Reach Jeffries' Camp June 12th. Game of Handball.

Ben Lomond, Cal., June 2.—Frank Gotch, the wrestler, who successfully defended his title against Zbyszko last night, will be delayed in getting to Jeffries' training camp. Gotch was expected to come at once, but telegraphed today that he would not start until June 12. Jeffries put in the morning in the gymnasium and handball court. Corbett, who appeared to outclass the former champion at handball last Tuesday, fell an easy victim to Jeffries' skill today.

CLOSED DOOR ON RAILROADERS

Error and Hit in Fourth Gave Victory to Giants—Gunderson Pitched Steady—A Fine Game.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., June 2.—With several opportunities to put the game on ice, the Railroaders burnt them up and the Giants put a man around the circuit in the fourth and won the game. "Lefty" Morris was on the slab for the crew and his error and yielding a hit gave the first run.

Gunderson did the flinging for the Giants and while he was at no stage an astounder, he pitched a steady game. Cregan was the one star at the bat for the Railroaders while "Heiny" Gastmeyer got two at second that were applause getters. Goldsboro's entire team played consistent ball.

CHAMPS LOSE TO SCOTCHMEN

Score Six to Four in Favor of Highlanders—Color of Hearne's Sox Called Forth Protest—Game in Detail.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Wilson, N. C., June 2.—In a slow but interesting game this afternoon Wilson lost out to the Highlanders. Jacobs for Wilson, in the first, started the score getting. In Fayetteville's fourth Dobson hit one for two sacks, a sassy ball in right and a wild throw by Whelan netted Fayetteville three runs.

In Wilson's sixth Miller hit to right for a three-bagger when Armstrong hit safe, scoring Miller. Fayetteville again scored in the seventh. In the seventh two men crossed the plate for Wilson tieing the score and in the eighth and ninth the visitors scored again. In the beginning of the eighth, Hearne was put in the box, but as his stockings did not suit the fancy of the visitors, they registered a kick and the game went on under protest from the locals because of the fact that a coacher for the visitors wore a white uniform. Lane pitched up one and Hearne in the meantime had another pair of sox and these he quickly hustled into when the game went on.

ENGLISHMAN'S DOUBLE FEAT

Flies Across English Channel in American Aero Twice Without Stopping—Capt. Rolls Wins New Honors.

Dover, Eng., June 2.—The Honorable Charles Stewart Rolls, captain in the London section of the Army Motor Reserve, driving a Wright bi-plane, vindicated Anglo-Saxon aeronautics by crossing the English channel twice this evening without alighting. He made the round trip between Dover and Calais in 90 minutes.

While two Frenchmen, Louis Bleriot and Count DeLesseps, have crossed the channel in an aeroplane, it remained for an Englishman in an American machine to perform the double feat. The distance across between the two points named is 21 miles, so that his over-water flight of 42 miles without a stop establishes a new record.

Capt. Rolls left Dover at 6:30 o'clock. The atmospheric conditions were excelent. He lost no time in manouvers, but after taking a circle, headed towards the coast of France. In anticipation of the flight torpedo boats steamed at full speed across the straits, but the pace of the aeroplane was swifter.

Capt. Rolls sent his machine to a height of 800 feet and at that altitude he skimmed through the air like a great bird. The motor worked perfectly. The crowd that watched the start confidently awaited the return, and it was not long before the speck, which those who had telescopes saw disappear on the French coast, re-appeared, growing larger with every minute.

When finally the aviator became visible to the naked eye, cheer after cheer arose from the enthusiastic spectators and as he gracefully soared toward the landing place made famous by Bleriot, he was given an ovation. He alighted at 8 o'clock at almost the same spot as Bleriot, showing little signs of the strain of his magnificent flight.

dearly bought and at the cost of every industry in the South save alone that of the big spot dealer. The New York Cotton Exchange, against which criticism is especially directed, may not be perfect in its methods, and no doubt internal remedial legislation is required, but these abuses are small as compared with the evils of the proposed Federal legislation. Pursuant of the foregoing, the Wilmington, N. C., Chamber of Commerce resolves:

"First, That the Scott bill now pending in Congress is a pernicious interference with commercial freedom and economic law.

"Second, That our Senators and Representatives in Congress be urged to examine carefully into the subject of future contract dealings, and, if consistent with their conclusions, oppose the enactment of the Scott bill or any measure of similar import."

Speaking to the preamble and resolutions, President Taylor said that he knew of no subject more mixed in the public mind than this question of future contract trading, which so far as cotton is concerned is vital to the South. If you were to eliminate the element of speculation in business, the speaker said, you would bring about a period of stagnation that would be absolutely ruinous. He went on to explain that this Scott bill so limited the liberty of the exchanges as to confine transactions to actual sales and actual deliveries under oath. President Taylor also explained the theory of future trading and told of the consequences of the impact of deliveries in the Fall, which would be so great as to depress the price and place the situation entirely in the hands of a few spot dealers, who would later dole out the supply to the spinners at no advantage in price to them under present conditions. The effect would be simply to bankrupt the South in the absence of mechanism placing the crop in the hands of men, who being none the less human than all of us, would handle the situation entirely for their own benefit. Now cotton is the most certain and the most negotiable commodity known, but with the absence of future contract trading, the mechanism would be entirely destroyed and the business of the South would not only have to be revolutionized, but it would be ruined. He explained how the great bulk of speculation was carried on by professionals and that the evils resulting in the "shearing of the lambs" could be excused on the ground that the lambs should fear to tread where only lions stalked.

Mr. Taylor went on to say that 20 years ago a similar bill was introduced in Congress and was defeated at that time by Senator White, upon constitutional grounds, Senator White later having become one of the most distinguished members of the Supreme bench. A few days ago a lawyer had sent to Mr. Taylor a legal opinion on the present bill against which the same constitutional objections now rest, according to Mr. George Rountree, of this city, to whom it was submitted. The opinion holds that to deal in contracts is not inter-state commerce and therefore the Federal government has no right to interfere. Second that the element of conspiracy does not enter, because you cannot have a conspiracy unless it begins and ends in one State. The speaker gave the opinion that this bill would not stand the test of the courts, even if enacted, however, its enactment would have a depressing effect upon business.

Upon the conclusion of Mr. Taylor's very able exposition of the subject, Mr. M. J. Corbett moved the adoption of the preamble and resolutions and after second by Mr. Sam Bear, the adoption was unanimous after discussion by several persons, including Mr. Bear, Mr. L. B. Rogers and others.

The president stated that he had taken up with Mr. Kenly, of the Coast Line, the question of additional train service on the A. & Y. railroad, the effort for which he reviewed, stating that Dr. Geo. F. Lucas had just arrived in the city, bringing with him a petition of something like 900 people travelers and prospective travelers along the road, requesting the additional service. He hoped for results in the future. He had also taken up with Passenger Traffic Manager Craig the question of additional sleeper service northbound from Wilmington, explaining that whereas Charleston, Augusta and Savannah have a through sleeper to New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore without change, the Wilmington sleeper is sidetracked at Washington and passengers from this end of the line have to change there. He also had up with Mr. Finley, of the Southern Railway, the question of a through sleeper from Western North Carolina points without the inconvenience and annoyance of a 4 A. M. change in Raleigh. He said that it was a shame that Wilmington was not considered at all an item of travel in the State and that it was now up to the railroads and the Chamber might be called upon for other action later.

After discussing informally other matters, the Chamber adjourned subject to call.

DAVIDSON'S COMMENCEMENT

Endowment Fund Raised on Last Day in Midst of Great Enthusiasm—List of the Graduates—Some of the Contributors.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Davidson, N. C., June 1.—By far the most interesting and exciting event of commencement day yesterday was the completion of the endowment fund by popular subscription in order to secure the $75,000 offered by the General Education Board by the first of June. This involved the raising of a fund of $225,000 and the friends of Old Davidson responded to the call most nobly, so that the quarter million endowment is now secure.

At the beginning of the meeting yesterday a considerable amount was still to be raised and amid scenes of much excitement both here and at Charlotte where the goal of $10,000 had been set, the money was forthcoming. The graduating class responded to the call with nearly a thousand dollars so that with the gift from Carnegie the endowment will be increased by $300,000, an accomplishment of which North Carolina Presbyterians may well feel proud.

Loyal Presbyterians from all over North Carolina were most generous, during the campaign just ended, a list of those who subscribed $400 and partial list being as follows: W. H. DAY'S DOINGS IN RALEIGH

Corporation Commission to Bostic—Notices Being Sent Out for Assessments—Charlotte Publishing Enterprise.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 2.—Members of the Corporation Commission left this faternoon for Bostic, N. C., to investigate the situation there as to the location of a union passenger station for the Seaboard Air Line and the Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio Railroad companies. The railroad companies have agreed to erect an ample union station at this well known "State line" depot on the famous route from Charlotte to Johnson City and the difficulty that the commission is called in to settle is the chosing between two proposed locations. Chairman McNeill and Commissioner Rogers made the trip.

There went out from the office of the commission today official notices and blanks to all the corporations doing business in the State for making returns of their business on which the tax assessments for the year will be made by the commission within the next two months. There are about 5,200 corporations liable to this system of tax assessment by the commission, including railroads, telephone companies, telegraph companies, electric light and power, street railways, water companies, banks, building and loan and in fact, all industrial corporations doing business in the State. This tax assessment is one of the hardest and longest tasks that devolves on the commission.

The Union Farmers' Publishing Co., Charlotte, is chartered with $25,000 capital for general printing, lithographing and book-making business, J. Z. Green, W. C. Crosby and H. Q. Alexander being the principal incorporators. No mention is made of any purpose of publishing a newspaper.

H. C. Beckwith, a well known member of the State Board on Internal Improvement, is out in a card announcing his candidacy for the sixth judicial district solicitorship, the three candidates now being H. C. Norris and B. C. Beckwith, Wake, and A. S. Abell, Johnston county. Wake voters will pass on the candidates in primary and then delegates will go instructed to the district convention. The impression is strong here that Mr. Beckwith is running in the interest of the candidacy of Frank Daniels for the judgship with a view to affection of the decision of the Wake county vote especially. He is an ardent "reform or insurgent" in Wake.

Commutation to life imprisonment is made today by Governor Kitchin in the case of John Allen Stackhouse, under sentence in Scotland county to be electrocuted June 10th. He killed his wife under what is now believed to have been extenuating circumstances.

A verdict of $3,035.35 was given tonight by the Federal court jury in the suit of George H. Avant against the Deep River Lumber Co., of Moore county. Avant had demanded $10,000 damages. He had a thigh broken by a fall while at work on the lumber yards of the company. The defense was contributory negligence.

Rocky Point, N. C., June 2.—A large funeral concourse gathered at Pike Church cemetery and loving hands laid Mrs. Cassandra Rhodes' remains to rest. Rev. R. E. Peele, of Burgaw, officiated, with the following pallbearers: Messrs. W. E. Brown, J. L. Casteen, W. W. Miller, J. E. Durham, J. B. Durham, and J. S Black The grave was covered with beautiful floral designs contributed by the many friends of Mrs. Rhodes, who held her in the highest esteem. Thus passes away a refined, gentle woman of the olden days. A sweet Christian character, who bore intense suffering for several long weary months and her last prayers were to be relieved from this world and its suffering.

from a knife, gun, tin can, rusty nail, fireworks, or of any other nature, demands prompt treatment with Bucklen's Arnica Salve to prevent blood poison or gangrene. It's the quickest, surest healer for all such wounds as also for Burns, Boils, Sores, Skin Eruptions, Eczema, Chapped Hands, Corns or Piles. 25c. at Robert R. Bellamy's.

BEATS BEING BED-RIDDEN

J. F. Stone, of Lawrence, Says His Wife Was Totally Helpless Until Releived by Cardui.

Lawrence, Kas.—"My wife," says J. F. Stone, of this city, "suffered for ten years from female troubles, during two of which she was totally helpless.

She was examined by many physicians, some of whom gave her up to die. Finally she began to take Cardui, and since then has greatly improved in health.

This beats being a constant, bed-ridden invalid. I will do all I can for Cardui."

The tonic, strengthening, and restorative effects of Cardui, the woman's tonic, on woman's constitution, are the most valuable qualities of this popular medicine.

Cardui is made from strictly vegetable ingredients. It acts specifically on the womanly organs, gently stimulating them to do their proper work, relieving pain and restoring health.

There are no bad after-effects from Cardui, since it is mild, gentle, and non-intoxicating.

Do you need a tonic? Then take Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped thousands of suffering women and will surely help you.

Your druggist has it. Ask him about Cardui. He will tell you that it will do all that is claimed for it.

Ralph Waldo Emerson said:

"If a man can write a better book, preach a better sermon, build a better mouse trap than his neighbor, though he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."

That accounts for the fact that since we have been handling the interested buyers of motor cars have made a beaten path to our door.

HUSBAND AND WIFE AGREE ON TESTIMONY

Persons afflicted with catarrh and stomach trouble will no doubt be interested in a statement recently made by Mrs. Margaret E. Jewel, living at 612 North Twenty-third street, Mattoon, Ill., who is but one of many thousands of persons who have testified to the curative qualities of the Cooper remedies. Mrs. Jewel says:

"I am 55 years of age and have suffered from catarrh nearly all my life. My stomach was in a deplorable condition. I suffered terribly from indigestion and nervous trouble. I was all run down, and though I tried many remedies nothing afforded more than temporary relief.

"Finally I was persuaded to give Cooper's New Discovery a trial, and procured a bottle from my druggist. Its effect was immediate and I soon felt like a different woman. After having taken six bottles I am today enjoying very good health.

"My husband who has suffered a great deal with rheumatism, has also taken Cooper's New Discovery, and it has afforded him great relief. We both agree that there is nothing to compare with this splendid medicine."

No person with a strong, healthy stomach need be sick; on the other hand, no one can expect to enjoy good health with a stomach that is weak and degenerated. The stomach is the most important organ in the human system, and is responsible for the majority of the ills of mankind, due almost wholly to neglect and abuse.

Cooper's New Discovery makes weak stomachs strong. We have a heavy demand for this preparation.—J. H. Hardin.

Friday, June 3rd, 1910.

The old time North Carolina Republicans are not manifesting any great amount of vehement approval of ex-Senator Butler's propoistion to carry out President Taft's idea that the old timers should be put in the closet and kept out of sight as the family skeleton of the Republican party in North Carolina.

The Hon. Marion Butler makes a long distance noise from Washington like he is a State insurgent. He recalls and endorses the maledixit of President Taft when that distinguished gentleman insurged against the old-line Republicans in his speech at Greensboro a short while before he was nominated for President.

"How can we secure party harmony?" inquires a contemporary. Well, about the best way is to induce the leaders to assume a state of tranquility and an attitude of quiescence upon promise that if they will quit stirring up all the dissatisfaction they might stand a chance to get what they want if the party gets possession of all the offices.

A New York man took Secretary Wilson's advice and bought tough beef instead of the best cuts. The result was that the man got choked to death. Thus we observe that we consumers get it in the neck every time we trust to Republicans for a remedy for anything. If we eat the best cuts we go broke and if we take the hock-end there will be a funeral. Now is the time to insurge.

We regret that Senator Tillman's indisposition keeps him away from the Senate during these days when his barbed wire vocabulary could be requisitioned at a time when the woods need shelling. No one has stood forth to use the potato grater on the sore spots of the "bamboozlers." There was a certain amount of vicious delectation for newspaper readers when the "pitch-fork" was wont to be wielded among the Senatorial malefactors.

A contemporary complains that the Ballinger investigation lasted for weeks and run up an expense of $25,000. Editors should remember that it costs money to tree a Republican and make him come down. Legal talent with ready-made loopholes won't work for nothing, and besides no man could stand much of an investigation without counsel to tell him when to keep his fool mouth shut and especially not to keep on hand any documents that are dated back.

The old-timey Tar Heel Republicans are about to be made the scapegoat of commercialism and millism. It would be reasonable to expect a howl but behold what they took when Taft handed it out hot to them at Greensboro and then supported him in spite of his slap in the face! Let's see whether the old-timers are going to knuckle and truckle after loyally bearing the brunt of the fight for years, living through the rotten-egg era, and grinning and enduring a thousand kinds of opprobrium. Oh, you, old-timer!

Among the five distinguished gentlemen upon whom the University of North Carolina recently conferred the degree of LL. D. was Major E. J. Hale, editor of the Fayetteville Observer. The honors conferred were well earned and deserved, but as to Major Hale it was eminently fitting. The editor of the Observer is a profound scholar and learned man and his fine acquisitions and distinguished services signally entitle him to the degree. The press is particularly honored by the act of the University, for Major Hale is one of its ablest, most intellectual and most representative members.

KNIGTS OF THE GRIP.

The Knights of the Grip, sometimes called commercial travelers, and generally known among the porters as drummers, are in Wilmington in large numbers to hold a Grand Council convention today and tomorrow.

For these jovial trade tourists and ubiquitous hustlers for business Wilmington has a most cordial greeting. The heartiest grip in our hand is theirs and we want them to plainly understand that it is a genuine pleasure for this community to warm up to them. Be is known that they have the freedom of the city and the whole thing is theirs, including everything they want early and late as long as they stay.

Wilmington's welcome for the drummers is warm and sincere. Our people are immensely glad to greet the cheery tourists, for they are an inveterate set of optimists, scattering good cheer and sunshine while they are doing the business of the country. The drummer brings us the latest joke, and he makes us laugh and he makes us look at his samples and makes us buy his goods. All hands carry a full stock of yarns and when you see one of the light-hearted tourists say something and the crowd edges in around him, you may know he has a new one to spring on the crowd. He wins his way by being cheerful and looking on the bright side and he goes about giving us a living example of how to look pleasant and do business.

There are no knit brows among the jolly commercial tourists, and the balance of the world can learn from him the lesson that more can be made in this life by cheerfulness and good humor than by carrying around a countenance overwhelmed with gravity. The face of the commercial tourist indicates no deep seated grouch, for it is not business and it will get none. He casts aside the appearance of having come from a funeral, for he knows that he can get through life and take more orders while he is cheerful. He comes with the frank, cheery spirit that makes the world feel good, and that is why people like the drummer. That is one reason why Wilmington is glad that the drummers are here and it makes their welcome all the more cordial and generous. We reciprocate the spirit of the knights of the grip for they get next to us with their geniality and their business-like ways.

The commercial traveler's great importance lies in the fact that he is such a powerful factor in the business of this country. He keeps the channels of trade running with a swift current, he does business, and he makes business for all kinds and classes of people as he covers his territory and comes in contact with the world. He swings his samples and he scatters a certain enlightenment everywhere he goes. He is the advance agent of all that is new and up-to-date, not only in his line but in a general way. His intercourse is beneficial and his presence anywhere is a sure indication that there is something doing. Indeed, it is a dead place that knows not the drummer, and if you want to find the livest and the best communities on earth, follow up the drummer and you will be sure to land.

Business of all kinds and business everywhere has the drummer as its chiefest factor and its livest hustler All branches of business get their impulse through his activity. He keeps the mills and the factories running, for he looks up the needs of the world, he meets the commercial demands, and he increases the volume of business. He is the mainstay of the hotels and more than any one else he has been instrumental in causing them to brush up and get up-to-date so they can better cater to his wants and better accommodate the traveling public. His patronage makes it possible for many places to have their good hotels, and, in fact, he is a civilizer and a benefactor wherever he carries his grip. Moreover, the knight of the grip constitutes the best asset of the railroads, for they get him as a passenger by the thousands, every day and every night, because he is always on the go. His orders keep the freight trains running, and he is the right arm of industry for he keeps the wheels moving and the spindles humming by the business that he does and helps other folks to do.

The drummer is a good fellow. He is gleeful and patient and he is untiring and self-sacrificing, for he spends days and months far away from home and loved ones and is ever ready to risk the danger of travel and go out for business into the most out-of-way places and uninviting fields. He ever carries the home folks in his heart and perhaps amid pressing cares and worries that he never shows, he is a real hero in the strife. Necessarily the commercial traveler is a good man, for he buffets up against all the known world, yet he keeps his head level, he stands firm, does business, and is ever on his job. The hustling drummer, holding his job with his house as long as he wants it, furnishes the best evidence that he is honest, trustworthy and reliable, and the fact that he is depended upon to make good and does make good shows that the kind of men who are with us in Wilmington now are very largely the Salt of the Earth.

"The boys" are welcome in North Carolina's metropolis and the Star bespeaks for them an enjoyable time and a successful meeting of their Grand Council.

The Congressman who has a barbed wire fence around his prospects for re-nomination is a lucky man.

The commercial and mill Republicans in North Carolina are showing signs of treating the old camp followers after the manner of the reception accorded to the poor relations of an aristocrat who has evoluted from commonality.

The circular letter which the Hon. Marion Butler is firing out of Washington against the Republican machine in North Carolina is not calculated to provoke a kissing bee at the forthcoming State Republican convention to be held in Greensboro, August 10th.

What the whilom Populist Senator is now trying to do to his black-listed brethren of the State Republican machine will not very greatly augment the love of the old-liners for Colonel Butler. That is, not so as you'd notice it.

A Frenchman writes that Teddy Americanus is a "blatherskite". What the Colonel would write about a goggle-eyed Frenchman who cannot distinguish between a high brow and a blatherskite would be worth the $1 a word which The Outlook pays for the Roosevelt articles.

Great commotion was created in Berlin on Wednesday because a man threw at Crown Prince William a tin can containing a few uncooked beans. Royalty won't mind a little thing like that, but it is the bomb-thrower and not the tin can man who makes himself most disagreeable.

CURRENT COMMENT.

In 15 years from now, it is estimated the cotton boll weevil, who has never been checked, will have things pretty much his own way all over the cotton belt. It is a mercy, however, that the little scoundrel does not molest corn. Our farmer friends in the cotton belt will doubtless, as the evil weevil advances, raise corn and chickens and hogs and cattle, and be just as happy as ever. But the prospect of that inch elongation of the Chinaman's shirt grows dimmer as the years go by.—Charlotte News.

Within thirteen days after the decision of Wickersham, Taft's man of law, legalizing the sale of the San Jose estate in the Philippines, the sugar trust made soundings for a dock, planted a first crop of sugar and forage grass and started a survey of a railroad and the erection of buildings. Congressman Covington denounces this sale as a "frame-up" and the reply of the defender of the administration is just that the figures of the immense value of this land were grossly exaggerated.—Christian Chronicle.

Dr. W. D. Hunter, entomologist of the United States Department of Agriculture, has delivered himself of the opinion that within fifteen years the entire cotton belt of the South will have been run over by the boll weevil. Dr. Hunter is late in coming out with his prediction. Last Fall Judge R. T. Bennett wrote a series of articles for the Wadesboro papers in which he predicted the inevitable coming of the boll weevil, giving the pest, we believe, a period of ten years in which to reach this section. Judge Bennett not only warned the farmers of the coming of the pest, but advised them how to prepare for it in the planting of corn and sowing of small grain crops. There was much of wisdom in his warning and advice, but we fear little heed was paid to them. —Charlotte Chronicle.

That confession of California's labor commissioner ought to be good for the fruit crops, if not for the soul. His conclusion is that some form of unskilled labor, such as now represented by the Japanese, is essential for the continued development of the specialized agricultural industries of that State. It is an interesting observation that the California official makes when he says that this Japanese labor is "second only" to the Chinese. California's race issue, in other words, is likely to be settled after the manner in which a somewhat similar problem was settled in the South. There was agitation of a proposal, once upon a time, to send the negroes back to Africa. As soon as this movement began to look serious the people of the Southern States, especially in the cotton growing sections, let it be known that these agents would be "lawed" if they did not let the negroes alone.—Asheville Gazette-News.

An interesting and convincing commentary upon the recent hullabaloo about the "yellow peril" in California is afforded, on the strength of Californian official authority, in the report of the Commissioner of Labor of that State on the "Japanese problem" there. Against the pretence that the State was in danger of being overthronged with Japanese, who were coming in by myriads and multiplying like rabbits in Australia, are set the facts that at the beginning of this year there were only 41,626 Japanese in the whole State in a total population of, we suppose, about two millions; that in 15 months ended January 1, only 836 Japanese had arrived in the State, while 4,182 had departed from it; and that in the three years 1906-08 the births of Japanese in the State numbered 810 and the deaths 1,332. At that rate we should imagine it would not take many years for California to be entirely void of Japanese. In view, also, of the pother about the invasion of the public schools by Japanese, it is instructive to note that there are in the whole State only 817 of them thus enrolled.—New York Tribune.

Just about the most contemptible scoundrel in any community is the soft-soaping hypocrite. The citizen who is brazenly and openly vile can be placed and dealt with accordingly; but the one who is depraved at heart, who pretends to favor the enforcement of law and order, but who winks at violations of law and evil practices generally, who pretends to stand for civic righteousness, but secretly lends his influence to those factors that mean social degradation—such citizen is a great deal more harmful and less desirable than the avowed thug. There is too much straddling going on in the world. Too many men and women, too, are trying to run with the hare and follow with the hounds. Our community suffers from this state of affairs and so does every other community. A man is strong just insofar as you can place him and count on him. A community is strong just insofar as she can depend on her citizens. In this community we must have a stricter alignment of law-abiding citizens opposing those who will wink at law violation. We must know just where to place men when the critical time comes. Nothing so saps the moral strength of an individual or community as does listless indigerence which naturally develops into rank hypocricy.—Kinston Free Press.

The estimated gift of $10,000,000 which Princeton University is to get from the estate of Isaac Wyman calls attention to the productive funds of the other rich universities. Columbia has $26,000,000; Girard $23,000,000; Harvard $22,000,000; Leland Stanford, Jr., $18,000,000; University of Chicago 15,000,000; Princeton $14,000,000 and Yale $10,561,830. These are the universities which are very rich. There are many others which have big productive funds, but if we are not mistaken there is no one of them which approaches the foregoing. Not one of these rich universities is in the South. It is probable that it will be many years before a Southern university will rank with any of these rich Eastern and Western institutions in the matter of productive funds. One reason is that the South has but few very rich men, and as yet her rich men, while fairly liberal in their donations to educational institutions, haven't had their attention strongly directed to the importance of building up great universities in the South. The practice of her well-to-do and rich people of sending their sons and daughters to Northern schools that prevailed before the War Between the States is still continued. This practice will have to be changed and the number of great fortunes in the South will have to increase greatly before Southern educational institutions begin to get big donations. However, the advantages of the educational institutions of the South are excellent. The chances of success of those who graduate from them are about as good as are those who graduate from the more pretentious universities of the North. Therefore there is no good reason why the young men and women of the South shouldn't patronize home institutions in preference to those at the North which can boast of greater fame and larger wealth. If our educational institutions are to be prosperous they must have all the support we can give them.—Savannah News.

Mexican Mustang Liniment

For Poultry Ills.

Try it before you apply the hatchet to a sick fowl. It's cheaper and more satisfactory. Poultry raisers have found it an unfailing remedy for Roup, Pip, Canker, Gaps, Scaly Legs, Swelled Head and Eyes, etc.

This testimony proves it.

CAMBRIDGE SPRINGS, PA.

GENTLEMEN:—

I will tell you of a cure I made last week with Mexican Mustang Liniment. Had a hen so bad from a cold that her ears were swollen out as large as a hickory nut and full of matter and thick pus. Applied Mexican Mustang Liniment four times and to-day turned her out with the flock a well hen. Last Winter cured a very bad case of canker with three applications. I use it for nearly everything.

At Lumina tonight a fancy drill will be given by the Drum Corps and music for dancing will be furnished by Metz's Band, of Charleston, S. C.

The city is rapidly filling with traveling men, members of their families and friends for the fourth annual meeting of the Grand Council of the Carolinas, United Commercial Travelers, which convenes this morning for a two days' session. Many of the genial "knights of the grip" are accompanied by their wives and others by their lady friends and will combine pleasure with business. A great many of the visitors are either guests of friends in the city or at The Orton Hotel, but a large number of those who arrived on the late trains last night went direct to Wrightsville Beach, and will return to the city this morning in time for the opening exercises at the Academy of Music.

The meeting promises to be the largest attended and the most pleasant and profitable in the history of the organization, and Wilmingtonians will leave nothing undone that would tend to add to the pleasure of the visitors. At the public meeting this morning City Attorney Herbert McClammy, will formally turn over to the visitors the keys of the city and will bid them enjoy themselves to the fullest extent, having been assigned this pleasant duty by Mayor Walter G. MacRae. The next two days will be ones of great activity not only for the visitors, but to many townspeople to whom a large number of the visitors are known personally. The local committees have provided a very elaborate programme of entertainment and there will be something to interest and amuse every hour during the two days.

The visitors began arriving the city yesterday morning and every incoming train during the day brought a large number. The bulk of the crowd came in on the late Seaboard and Coast Line trains this morning, however. In addition to the local salesmen who came in yesterday and early last evening for the meeting, are the following visitors: Mr. and Mrs. Louis N. Schiff, M. C. Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Littlefield, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Saddleson, of Charlotte; O. Williams, Grand Councillor; F. L. Faulkner, J. M. Black, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Mendenhall, C. C. Taylor, J. W. Patterson, H. C. Marley, Mr. and Mrs. H M. Patterson, F. J. Sparger, of Greensboro; F. M. Anderson, E. Hollinsworth, L. S. Thompson, F. M. Walters, Virgil Lee, E. A. Hughes, of Raleigh; E. Van Schaack, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Jones, of Columbia, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Noell, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Noell, of Spartanburg, S. C.; R. C. Wands, of Chillicothe, Mo.; J. Starr, Sternberger, Charleston, S. C.; J. J. Dean, Louisville, Ky.; R. G. Rabb, Charleston, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Little, Marion, S. C.; C. Ben Allen, Anderson, S. C.; J. J. Hotchkiss, Roanoke, Va.; C. V. Liles, Florence, S. C.; T. C. Clute, Chadbourn; B. C. Summers, Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. L. H. Burnett, secretary and treasurer of the central committee on arrangements, and a moving spirit in the local Council, received a telegram early last night to the effect that there were 90 U. C. T's. on the Seaboard train from Charlotte to arrive here shortly after midnight. This is in addition to the Charlotte Drum Corps, an organization composed of 30 young men, and the ladies expected to be in the party. Information was also received that other traveling men would board the train en route, and reports from points in South Carolina were to the effect that the late Coast Line train would be crowded with traveling men. The local committee expects a great many others to arrive during the day. It is expected that there will be at least 300 or 400 visitors here for the meeting, exclusive of the local salesmen who will come for the week-end.

T. P. A's. to Take Part.

Members of Post G, Travelers' Protective Association, are requested to be present for the parade along with the visiting travelers on Saturday morning. Members are also asked to wear white trousers and blue coat, which will be worn by the U. C. T's. All members of Post G, T. P. A., are requested to call at the office of the secretary, Mr. J. S. Funchess, on Water street, and receive a badge of the organization to wear during the meeting, or see Mr. L. J. Kahn.

Mr. L. H. Burnett requests all members of Cape Fear Council, No. 374, U. C. T., to assemble at Council Hall, in the Murchison National Bank building, at 9 o'clock this morning to receive the regulation caps. Visitors who are not delegates to and do not care to attend the sessions of the Grand Council, but desire to attend the baseball game at League Park this afternoon should apply to Mr. Burnett, at Council Hall, for tickets. He has tickets in abundance for the visitors and it is only necessary to tell him the number you want. The badges will admit the visitors to the moving picture shows during the afternoon and evening.

Public Meeting Today.

The public is invited to attend the opening session at the Academy of Music at 9:30 o'clock when the visitors will be formally welcomed. Immediately after the meeting the U. C. T's. will assemble on the City Hall steps and have their "beauty struck," following which they will go to Council Hall for the opening business session, and while the Grand Council is transacting business the Charlotte Drum Corps will give a fancy drill at corner of Front and Market streets. The drill will begin at 11 A. M. and will probably attract thousands. The Drum Corps will also give a fancy drill at the ball park this afternoon. The second business session of the Grand Council will be held at 3 P. M. and the third at 8:30 P. M. At 7:30 P. M. the local council will confer the degree on a number of candidates.

The Grand Street Parade tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock will be one of the features of the Grand Council meeting and will be the longest procession in the history of the organization. The procession will form at Front and Chesnut streets in the following order: Platoon of mounted police, Metz's band, Charleston, S. C.; Grand Council officers in automobiles, Charleston, S. C., Council, Charlotte Drum Corps, Charlotte Council, Columbia Council, Fort Caswell Band, Wilmington Council. The following is the route of the parade: Up Chesnut to Third, up Third to Red Cross, down Red Cross to Front, down Front to Nun, up Nun to Third, up Third to Market and down Market to the steamer Wilmington wharf. Col. John VanB. Metts and Capt. E. A. Metts will be he chief marshals, and they will have as their aides, Messrs. Horace Pearsall, R. E. Tapp, A. G. Bowden.

At Lumina Tonight.

On the splendid ball room floor of Lumina, Wrightsville Beach, tonight the Charlotte Drum Corps will give one of their widely known fancy drills. The drill work of the organization is said to be of the highest order. They have given exhibitions in many large cities, and at the World's Fair in St. Louis they carried off the honors. Lumina is an ideal place for an exhibition of this kind and thousands will probably go down to the pleasure resort tonight. In addition to the drill there will be a dance with Metz's Band furnishing the music. Metz's Band is a very superior musical organization and their playing tonight should prove a decided attraction.

The officers of the Grand Council are: O. Williams, Greensboro, Grand Senior Councilor; H. E. Gilliam, Grand Past Councilor; E. B. Littlefield, Charlotte, Grand Secretary; J. G. Shannonhouse, Charlotte, Grand Treasurer; E. Van Schaack, Columbia, S. C., Grand Conductor; J. H. Semken, Charleston, S. C., Grand Page; David Ray, Wilmington, Grand Sentinel; W. C. Carrigan, Spartanburg, S. C., Grand Chaplain.

PEABODY COLORED SCHOOL.

Interesting Exercises Marked Close of School Yesterday.

The closing exercises of Peabody colored school, on Sixth between Campbell and Red Cross streets, held yesterday, were interesting and well attended. The programme was carried out in a creditable manner, showing careful and thorough training of the pupils. The certificates were presented to the graduating class by Prof. Bonner. The school has had a most successful year and the graduates and teachers were deservingly complimented for the interest manifested in the work.

Chairman J. Allen Taylor, of the school board, and Supt. Blair, were present at the closing exercises, and spoke briefly, heartily approving the work of the past session. The work in the sewing department was praised by all who saw the exhibit.

Charged With Larceny.

John Mass Jones, 15-year-old colored youth, was arrested yesterday morning by Deputy Sheriff J. W. Brown on a warrant charging him with the larceny of a $10 gold piece from the residence of Mr. A. S. Holden, April 9th. In default of bond the youth was committed to jail to await hearing before Justice Bornemann today. Mr. Holden has a collection of rare coins and he did not miss the $10 gold piece until yesterday morning. He then began an investigation and was told by several that Jones was seen with a $10 gold piece several weeks ago. Mr. Holden remembered that the negro was employed to do some work about the house on April 9th, when it is believed the theft was committed. The arrest of the negro followed. It is understood that Jones has employed L. Clayton Grant, Esq., and will fight the case.

THE TUG ALEXANDER JONES

Goes to Jacksonville, Fla., for Work in the Harbor—Good Field for Business—Another Tug Goes Later.

Local shipping interests will be interested in the following from The Times-Union, of Jacksonville, Fla., of May 31st, relative to the arrival in that city of the sea tug Alexander Jones, Capt. Sanders, which will do work in the harbor there:

"Capt. W. A. Sanders, general manager of the Wilmington Towing Company, of Wilmington, N. C., has launched into the tow boat business in Jacksonville, having brought to this city the handsome sea going tug Alexander Jones, which upon reaching the bar towed into port the schooner Robert P. Murphy, Capt. Dunton, which was the first notice given the local tug owners that opposition tugs were working on the bar.

"Capt. Sanders visited Jacksonville last February and was so well impressed with the progressiveness of the city and with the wonderful growth of the port, that he at once decided to bring his tugs here to do harbor work. Upon his return to Wilmington he immediately set about to make final arrangements for moving his business to Jacksonville, ordering the tug Alexander Jones to precede him to this port a few days ago.

"Capt. Sanders says that he has not brought his tug to Jacksonville to cause a rate war, or to try to run any opposition out of business, but simply for the reason that he believes the port's business warrants additional tug service.

"In addition to the tug Alexander Jones, another tug will soon arrive here and will immediately enter the towing business.

"Capt. Sanders is no stranger here, having been at this port on several occasions for tows to distant points with his fine tugs, and was here during the Spanish-American war. He will be joined in a short time by his family, making Jacksonville his future home.

"Capt. E. H. Johnson, who for a number of years was in command of the tug Biscayne, working in harbor service, has been placed in command of the tug Alexander Jones. Capt. Johnson is quite popular with the various masters of vessels trading at this port and will no doubt make business hum for Capt. Sanders.

"Since last Friday, in addition to the schooner Robert P. Murphy, the schooners Kate B. Ogden and Mary B. Baird have been towed up from the bar by the tug Alexander Jones.

"The tug Alexander Jones has a net tonnage of 69; is 106 feet long; breadth 23 feet, and was built at Baltimore in 1877.

"Capt. Sanders has been received with open arms by the business men of Jacksonville who wish for him great sucess in his Jacksonville venture.

Kept The King at Home.

"For the past year we have kept the King of all laxatives—Dr. King's New Life Pills—in our home and they have proved a blessing to all our family," writes Paul Mathulka, of Buffalo, N. Y. Easy, but sure remedy for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. Only 25c. at Robert R. Bellamy's.

STOMACH LIVER LUNGS

Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the Chain of Life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of weakness or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the weak or diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which seem remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

The strong man has a strong stomach. Take the above recommended "Discovery" and you may have a strong stomach and a strong body.

FOREMAN P. N. FICK INJURED

Thrown Violently to Sidewalk When Chemical Engine Overturned at Seventh and Dock Streets. Not Seriously Hurt.

While en route to a small fire at No. 706 Church street at 10:25 o'clock yesterday morning the chemical engine from Company No. 1 was overturned in making a sharp turn at Seventh and Dock streets, and the driver, Mr. P. N. Fick, who is also foreman of the company, was thrown violently to the sidewalk and painfully injured about the legs. Mr. H. W. Wright, substitute fireman, was the only other person on the apparatus and he jumped in time to escape with slight bruises on the hand

The hospital ambulance was called and Mr. Fick was taken to his home on Sixth, between Ann and Nun streets, where he was attended by Dr. J. T. Schonwald. Some fear that he is internally injured, but his many frends hope that such is not the case and that he will be able to be out again in a short time. The bruises about the legs are very painful, but are not considered serious. The horses stopped immediately and the damage to the wagon, it was stated by Chief Schnibben, will not exceed $10.

The fire was at the home of Mr. C. E. Fonveille, No. 706 Church street, and was caused from a spark from a chimney. The firemen had the fire extinguished in short order and the damage is estimated at $25.

At the Bijou Today.

HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

Class Day Exercises Held on Beautiful Campus Yesterday Afternoon—Splendid Programme and Large Crowd.

With the entire student body, members of the faculty and five hundred or more representative citizens, including the committeeemen and members of the County Board, in attendance, the annual class day exercises of the Wilmington High School were observed on the beautiful campus yesterday afternoon from 5:30 to 7 o'clock, and the exercises even surpassed in many respect the high standard of former years. The event of yesterday marked the beginning of the commencement exercises of the High School, which will come to a close with the exercises in the Academy of Music this evening, when the address to the class will be delivered by Attorney General Thos. W. Bickett, of North Carolina, and diplomas and scholarships, etc., will be awarded.

Through the courtesy of Mr. W. H. Sprunt, a member of the County Board of Education, the stage arranged on the campus for the Ben Greet players some weeks ago was left in position for the exercises yesterday afternoon. The stage was built under two live oak trees and was very attractively decorated with the colors of the class—black and gold. The arrangement of the seats was by Mr. John Niestlie, a member of the senior class, and represented the figure 10. Seated upon the stage were the 22 members of the graduating class as follows: Misses Eva May Beery, Hazel Black, Maggie Bowden, Lotie Frink, Josephine Harriss, Jessie Holmes, Adeline Keith, Emma Hazel King, Emmie Belle LeGwin, Emma Lossen, Fannie Mitchell, Laura Reid, Etta Salling, Ethel Solomon, Emily Westbrook, Ursula Willis, Mae Wilson, Messrs. William Lord, John Niestle, Israel Noe, David Pratt and Douglas Taylor, Jr. The officers of the class are: President, William Campbell Lord; vice president, Emma Hazel King; secretary, Miss Emily Skinner Westbrook; treasurer, John Douglas Taylor, Jr.; historian, Emma Hazel King; prophet, Fannie Starr Mitchell; poet, Ethel Mae Solomon; lawyer, Israel Harding Noe.

While the friends and patrons of the school were gathering on the campus, the pupils assembled in the building. To the strains of music rendered by Prof. Geo. L. Johnson at the piano, the pupils marched single file from the building across the campus to seats reserved for them just to the left of the stage. First came the freshmen and then the Juniors, who proceeded immediately to their seats on the campus. Members of the Sophomore class formed a line in front of the entrance to the building, holding the daisy chain which they placed on the shoulders of the Seniors as they passed through the line. The daisy chain was arranged in two sections, the first, carried by six members of the Senior class, representing the figure one, and the second, carried by 14 Seniors, representing the naught. After the Seniors had taken their positions on the stage the two sections of the daisy chain were dropped—symbolizing the breaking of the class ties. The Sophomores, who had remained in line in front of the building, then marched across the campus, and after they had taken their positions, the exercises began with the singing of the chorus, "Estudiantina," (Lacome), by the school.

When the notes of the song had died away Mr. William C. Lord, president of the class, arose and in a happy little speech extended a warm welcome to the visitors. This was followed by the reading of the class history by Miss Emma Hazel King, the historian, covering some of the most important events during the life of the class. The paper was well prepared and was heard with interest not only by the members of the class but by the visitors.

In a pleasing short speech Miss Mae Wilson presented to the High School the Class's gift, a handsome picture of "Laughing Cavalier" by Frans Hals. In behalf of the school the gift was received by Mr. J. J. Blair, superintendent of the city schools. "For a number of years," said Mr. Blair, "the different classes in the High School have left gifts of some kind for the pleasure of those who follow and as memorials to themselves. Some have selected statuary and some pictures of great historic and artistic value.

"The class this year has selected, on account of the great revival of interest in Dutch art, the wonderfully interesting and popular portrait by Frans Hals known as the "Laughing Cavalier." This brilliant and dashing bit of character study may be taken as an example of the highest attainment in portraiture. It is called the 'Laughing Cavalier' in spite of the fact that the expression of the face is not a laugh nor a grin, but a smile which seems ready at any time to burst into a laugh.

"This portrait has been regarded by all critics for 300 years as standing as a model of strong and forceful representation of the human face and form.

Frans Hals ranks with Rembrandt, Velasquez and Van Dyke as a painter and delineator of human character.

"In this gift, the class has presented one of the most permanently popular pictures of the early Dutch school.

The class poem was recited by Miss Ethel Solomon, the class poet, and it was an excellent composition and pleased greatly. Miss Ursula Willis in a pleasing manner presented the Crook to the Junior class and it was accepted in behalf of the Juniors by Mr. Edward Hardin, president of the class, in a few bright and witty remarks. Then occurred an incident not on the programme. Prof. P. E. Seagle, the popular and capable principal of the school, was called to the stage and presented with a handsome scarf pin and pair of cuff holders. The gift was from the managers of Tileston Topics, the High School magazine, and was an expression of the appreciation of the valuable assistance rendered by Prof. Seagle in making the publication among the best of the kind in the State. The speech of presentation was made by Mr. Louis Stein, and the gift was accepted by Prof. Seagle in a few appropriate remarks.

One of the features of the exercises was the class prophecy by Miss Fannie Starr Mitchell, the prophet, one of the brightest members of the class, who took a look in future and foretold the lives of her class mates in a most original and charming manner. The prophecy was in verse and had been committed to memory by Miss Mitchell. Many who have heard class prophecies innumerable declared that the composition of Miss Mitchell surpassed them all. It was sparkling with wit and humor and kept the audience in an uproar of laughter throughout.

After the singing of the class song, the words of which were written by Miss Jessie Holmes, member of the class and daughter of Rev. K. D. Holmes, pastor of Fifth Street Methodist Church, and which captivated the audience, the class marched to the left of the entrance to the High School building where the planting of the ivy took place by Miss Lotie Frink, who then presented to the Sophomore class the spade, which was accepted in behalf of the Sophomore by Miss Edna LaNier. This was followed by the obsequies of the class in front of the stage, being a witch scene from Macbeth. This was one of the most impressive incidents of the exercises.

When the members of the class had again taken their seats upon the stage, the last will and testament of the class was read by Mr. Israel Noe, the lawyer. All of the effects of whatsoever kind were bequeathed to members of the various classes and to some of the faculty. To Mr. J. J. Blair, the superintendent, was presented a guide to matrimony, which was accepted amidst much laughter.

Just before the singing of "As with Circling Years," the closing number, Uncle Moses Jones, for many years the janitor at the High School, was called to the stage by Mr. Douglas Taylor, Jr., and as an expression of the appreciation of the class for his many acts of kindness during the four years he was presented a $5 gold piece. Equal to the occasion in every sense of the word, Uncle Moses delivered his farewell address to the class, in the form of a poem especially appropriate to the occasion. The old darkey had committed every word to memory and he delivered it with feeling. He had copies of his address printed and one was presented to each member of the class. With the singing of the chorus, "As with Circling years," the exercises came to a delightful close.

Among the former graduates of the High School in attendance upon the Class Day exercises were noted: Mr. Ferdinand Duls, class of '07, University of North Carolina; Canova Peterson, '08, student Wake Forest College; Miss Elizabeth LeGwin, '04, teacher of Latin, Wilson High School; Mr. William Parsley, '07, University of North Carolina; Robert Strange, '08, University of North Carolina; Nicholas Post, '09, University of North Carolina; Miss Mary Mitchell, '05, teacher of Latin, State Normal College; Miss Laura Weill, '05, graduate of State Normal this year and president of her class; Mr. Harry M. Solomon, '07, student University of North Carolina; Miss Antoinette Black, '07, student State Normal College.

Cottolene is the Original Pure Food Shortening

There are many imitations of Cottolene, but, like all imitations, they equal the original from which they are patterned only in claims.

Cottolene was the first pure substitute for unhealthy hog fat. It is still the best anti-lard product—in fact, the best and most healthful shortening you can buy today. Cottolene is a high-grade product, made from cotton seed oil refined by our exclusive process. Other products sold in place of Cottolene and claimed to be "just as good" are nothing more or less than cheap compounds, which always sell at from 1c to 2c a pound less than even hog lard.

Do not accept a substitute for Cottolene, for when you pay less you get less; even if Cottolene may cost you a few cents more than some other cooking fat, what does it amount to when you consider the difference in the two products from a health standpoint? Cottolene is the one and only dependable pure food shortening—it contains no hog fat, is always uniform, and makes pure, palatable, digestible, healthful food.

COTTON MARKET AGAIN BREAKS

Violent Fluctuations Yesterday—Affect of Government Crop Report—Opened Steady at Decline—The Gossip.

New York, June 2.—There were violent fluctuations in the cotton market today, a big break immediately after the government's first crop report of the season being followed by a still sharper rally with the market closing firm net 11 points lower to 12 points higher, the old crop leading the advance.

The market opened steady at a decline of 4 to 12 points under scattering liquidation and local bear pressure inspired by disappointing cables, favorable weather accounts and interpretations of bull liquidation before the government report. It seemed, however, that none of the concentrated long lines were coming on the market and during the middle of the morning prices rallied from the lowest on covering by early sellers and foreign buying. Just before the report was published July contracts were selling at 14.35 and October at 12.27. The condition of 82 per cent. proved better than had been anticipated and immediately after the publication of the figures July broke to 14.15 while October sold off to 12 1-2 and December to 11.95 or a net decline of about 27 to 30 points. But at this level offerings for long account become less urgent, the bull leaders, instead of selling appeared to be buying, and the market later became very firm with July up to 14.56, and closing at 14.54 bid, or 12 points net higher. The new crop rallied to within 7 to 8 points of last night's finals, but was relatively easy owing to the continued good weather. The government's report on acreage showing an increase of 2.8 per cent. was rather under trade expectation and tended to offset the better condition looked for. The June condition report has seldom proved a safe guide to the ultimate crop and in the late trading, the comparatively small increase in area appeared to be attracting more attention while the advance was also promoted by reports of a better spot demand and bull support of the old crop. The New Orleans market will be closed tomorrow. Southern spot markets were unchanged to 1-8 lower.

Receipts at the ports today was 5,805 bales against 9,715 last week and 9,414 last year. For the week 55,000 bales, against 56,293 last week and 60,759 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 3,212 bales against 3,332 last year, and at Houston 713 bales against 579 last year.

Spot closed quiet 5 points decline, middling uplands 14.50; middling gulf 14.75; sales 5,890.

Cotton futures opened steady and closed firm.

What a Summer Cold May Do.

A Summer cold if neglected, is just as apt to develop into bronchitis or pneumonia as at any other season. Do not neglect it. Take Foley's Honey and Tar promptly. It loosens the cough, soothes and heals the inflamed air passages, and expels the cold from the system. Robt R. Bellamy.

COTTON DECLINES.

Hubbard Bros. & Co's. Review of the Market Yesterday.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Ne wYork, June 2.—In the face of an excellent demand for cotton in Liverpool the market here slowly declined under selling for what appeared to be Western and Wall street accounts until the bureau estimate of condition was published. This estimate of 82 with an increase in acreage of 2.8 brought about a further decline of some 12 points, or fully 25 points from yesterday. Then a demand for July showed the absence of any supply, and the old crop deliveries quickly advanced, July closing 12 points higher, with August and September firm. European spinners were good buyers all day. While the feeling among outside traders in America has become very bearish on the disturbance of confidence and the good crop accounts, which they accept as pointing to a very large crop, it should be remembered that this is only the 1st of June and the crop has all of its troubles before it.

STOCK MARKET TAKES PAUSE

Situation as to Raising Freight Rates—Effect Being Discounted—Criticism of Trunk Line Committee—Other Notes.

New York, June 2.—The speculation in securities today showed a disposition to pause and take stock of the situation created by the injunction against raising Western trunk freight rates. There seemed to be a consciousness developed that the headlong rate at which the damage feared from this action was being discounted might have in it a quality of heedlessness.

The discussion of new measures inaugurated by the Department of Justice showed a growing lack of clear conception of the proper significance to attach to the matter.

On the part of stock market operators, and to some extent, of railroad officials there is heard some criticism of the Western Trunk Line Committee for the methods they pursued in seeking the rate advances which have been enjoined. The fact that one agent was used by all the railroads in filing notice of the advance is cited as almost a challenge to the government authorities to test the prohibition of rate agreements in the anti-trust law.

There is the further criticism of the Western Trunk Line Committee that its action was precipitated and designed to forestall the provisions of the pending railroad bill for the reference of rate changes to the commerce court.

Of the consequences which are feared there was evidence in the apprehension expressed by iron and steel trade organs of a check to demand from the railroads for equipment and material. A report was in circulation that the New York Central had asked for the cancellation of an order for new freight cars, said to amount to between five and six million dollars.

There were rumors also of postponed heavy reduction of working forces by the railroads. The acute weakness of St. Paul was attributed to fears for the integrity of the dividend, without higher charges for transportation. The effect of reduced net earnings of railroads on the placing of railroad bonds abroad is another phase of the problem given much attention.

The tone of the money market was distinctly easier, the liquidation in the stock market and the reduction in the official discount rate of the Bank of England both conducing to that result.

The stock market closed but little changed from yesterday's closing prices, the early losses having been practically made up.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales par value $1,830,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales for the day 779,600 shares.

Doctors Agree

that much of the illness of children can be traced directly to unsanitary refrigerators, and many cases of typhoid fever can also be traced to an ill smelling, foul, zinc-lined ice box.

A good refrigerater is the best "health insurance" you can have, as it safeguards the health of your family and keeps your food clean, fresh and pure.

are endorsed by physicians, hygienists, and sanitary experts, and are not only better than ordinary refrigerators, but are much more economical as they require only one-half as much ice as an ordinary refrigerator. They are so perfectly insulated that they are as nearly as possible cold and heat proof, and therefore have an active circulation of absolutely dry, cold, pure air with the minimum amount of ice.

Let Us Tell You Why

McCray Refrigerators are superior. Come in and see them for yourself, and let us give you the names of some of the people who are using McCray Refrigerators. Then call some of them up on the 'phone and ask them if they are satisfied with the McCray. Don't take our word—ask someone who is actually using a McCray.

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS EXHIBITS

Hundreds of Visitors at Union and Hemenway Schools Yesterday Morning—Work of Pupils Surpasses Last Year.

The commencement exercises of the grammar schools, Union and Hemenway, were ushered in yesterday with the exhibition of the work of the pupils. The buildings were open to the public from 9 to 12 o'clock and during the morning hundreds of friends and patrons of the school inspected the excellent work of the pupils as exhibited on the walls in the various rooms. Unquestionably the exhibit of work surpasses by far any previous exhibition and it was stated yesterday by persons who have seen such work in some of the leading schools of the country that nowhere had they seen anything to equal that done by the pupils of Union and Hemenway.

The usual morning exercises were held at both schools at 9 o'clock and several interesting addresses were made by visitors. At Hemenway school Psalms 67 and 96 were recited by the school, after which "Holy, Holy, Holy," was sung. This was followed by prayer by Rev. W. A. Snyder, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, and after the singing of "Ten Thousand Times Thousand", by the school Mr. J. J. Blair, the superintendent, made a short talk in which he referred to the happy look on the faces of the children, who were glad the present school term is drawing to a close. He said that the year had been a most successful one. There were several recitations by children, after which Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, made an interesting short talk.

The exhibition of the work of the pupils was tastefully hung on the walls of the various rooms and attracted considerable attention and inspected with great interest. In Miss Hill's room, third grade, were papers showing children's work in arithmetic, writing, spelling, geography and drawing; maps of New Hanover county, illustrating places of interest near at home; maps of North Carolina, giving locations of several largest cities, and maps of the Western Hemisphere. In Miss Lathrop's division of the third grade were shown papers illustrating the year's work in arithmetic, spelling and composition; colored maps of North Carolina, illustrating elevation, indentations, etc., and numerous colored drawings of flowers, birds, bonnet-babies, also silhouettes and paper-cuttings of rabbits, horses, etc.

In Miss Eva Farmer's division of the fourth grade were shown North Carolina maps made in pamphlets and mounted on white card board. The first page was painted in water colors, showing sounds, rivers and mountains, second page, cities, third products, and fourth, animals, both being drawn. North Carolina flags, painted in water colors, North American maps, painted in water colors, showing political divisions, large rivers and mountain ranges, were also hung upon the walls and attracted much attention. Also on exhibition were arithmetic examinations, covering the year's work, the subjects being long division, addition and subtraction, of fractions, etc. Thirty-seven of the pupils made 100. Spelling examination papers were also shown. Fifty words were given and 28 made 100. Compositions on Greek and fairy stories and writing exercises for speed and copy books were also shown. In Miss Boon's division of the fourth grade were blackboard drawings, exhibition of drawings of rabbits, cats and dogs, etc.; maps of North America, drawn and colored by the children; geography papers on North America; compositions, writing exercises to increase speed in vertical writing; arithmetic work, including work done in long division, addition and subtraction of fraction.

Exhibition work in Miss Bernard's division of the fifth grade—Examination papers were exhibited, showing the year's work in arithmetic and spelling, and historical compositions, illustrating the special points in Colonial and Revolutionary history. Movement exercises, showing the drills in training the hand and arm for writing, and maps of Europe, painted in water color, occupied a large space on the wall. The decorations of the room were planned to tone with the color of the walls. A Japanese effect was obtained by a border of chrysanthemums around the blackboard, and the idea was carried out with Japanese lanterns, which were drawn on the board with colored chalk. Lanterns in water color formed a frieze above some of the exhibit work. A number of the little girls in the room wore Japanese costumes, and were the most attractive, and formed the most attractive exhibit of the day. Water color drawings of birds, butterflies, and flowers were used as decorations; these were the work of the children since January, when the color work began. Miss Cantwell's division of fifth grade—Here were shown maps of Europe in colors, nature studies in water colors; arithmetic, long and short division, addition, subtraction, multiplication and division of fractions. Spelling examinations, compositions on history, geography and the poets were also shown, as well as writing, showing speed, and regular work from writing books. On the blackboard was a border of daisies.

Sixth grade, Miss Ida Hankins, teacher—Here were shown maps, copy books, drawings of various kinds, blackboards covered with free hand drawings; border of flowers which the children planted, raised, pressed and mounted. Geography, grammar, arithmetic and various other papers were shown.

Seventh grade, Miss Yates, teacher—Examinations on arithmetic, geography, history, grammar and physiology, showing work at different periods of the school year. Work in English, reproduction of Greek, Roman and German stories; research work illustrated by pictures of places in Europe, and original stories, were features. Copy books and papers showing movement exercises were on exhibition. There were a number of drawings correlated with physiology. Specimens, some of which were colored, were shown among papers on physiology and by drawings on the blackboard. There were also a number of maps of Europe and Cuba.

The exhibition work of the eighth grade comprised the following: The Lord's Prayer in Latin, written on gray paper in red ink; maps of the Southern States and Asia, physiology drawings, algebra, Latin, Geography and English; all the final examinations, and the history book. For the best of these books a prize of $5 was offered and was won by Miss Margaret George.

The exhibition in Miss Loder's room consisted of colored maps of North America; arithmetic papers, covering work from short division through addition and subtraction of fractions; spelling papers; composition work; writing movement for speed, and blackboard drawings.

In Miss Horsfield's room was a blackboard border of birds; exhibition of compositions, spelling papers, number work, especially the first six multiplication tables; work in colored crayon and paper cutting.

Union School.

At Union school the exhibition was very similar and most favorable comments were heard from the various visitors during the morning. There were splendid exhibitions of work in each of the rooms, as follows: Eighth grade divisions, Mrs. St. Amand and Miss Gibson, teachers. The mechanical drawing of George Niven in Miss Gibson's room attracted especial attention. Seventh grade divisions, Misses Bryan and Shaw; sixth, Misses Hill and McKay; fifth, Miss Smith, Mrs. Stover and Mrs. Cobb; fourth, Miss Meares, Miss Kingsbury, and Miss Wood; third, Miss Alderman, Miss McIntosh and Miss Parsley; second, Mrs. Anderson, Misses Jackson, Theo. LeGrand and Meta Legrand; first, Misses Crosswell and Meares. Mrs. M. E. Cook is principal of Union school. There were several hundred visitors to the school during the morning and the exhibition in each of the rooms received high praise.

CYCLONE AT AUGUSTA.

Houses Wrecked, Streets Strewn With Trees—Fearful Storm.

Augusta, Ga., June 2.—Augusta has been in darkness since 10:13 tonight, the streets are strewn with uprooted trees and prostrate wires, every telephone is out and the trolley system disabled as a result of a cyclone lasting about 18 minutes.

No fatalities have been reported, but half a dozen or more residences have been more or less wrecked and two or three warehouses blown down.

The casino building at Lakeview, where a night performance was just concluding, was completely wrecked but the audience escaped uninjured.

Every enterprise depending on electric power is tied up and all business houses and residences using current are in darkness.

MEN "HIGHER UP" ARRESTED.

President of Milling Co., and Railroad Agent for Larceny.

Albany, N. Y., June 2.—Gibson Oliver, treasurer of the firm of Durant & Elmore, grain merchants of this city, and president of the Oneonta Milling Company, and Henry C. Palmer, formerly freight agent of the Delaware & Hudson Company, who have been under surveillance since the recent discovery of a shortage in the accounts of Durant & Elmore, were arrested today. Oliver is charged with grand larceny in the first degree, in having obtained money on fraudulent bills of lading which, it is alleged, were issued by Palmer, who is charged with a misdemeanor. Both men pleaded not guilty and subsequently were released on bail.

Creditors of the grain company allege that through the manipulation of the bills of lading the company was able to borrow hundreds of thousands of dollars.

FINAL CONCERT OF FESTIVAL

The Audience Larger Than on the Opening Night—"The Rose Maiden" Greatly Enjoyed—Orchestra and Soloists.

A bright, cheerful and eager audience awaited the second and final concert of the May Music Festival—the success of the previous night's concert still lingering and leaving the music lovers in a mood to appreciate the especially fine programme given last night.

The first part was given to the orchestra and it is needless to say that Wilmington never had an orchestra composed of such artistic individuality, each member playing with good tone and and finish. The celebarted "Minuet" by Paderewski was much enjoyed; the orchestra playing with much dignity and stateliness. This was decidedly the best work of the orchestra during the evening.

There was a violin cello solo by Herr Felix Muetze. He played the last movement from Goltermann's B minor concerto. No one can listen to this instrument, which so nearly approaches the human voice, with cold technical interest. The audience seemed disappointed not to be able to hear the entire concerto from such a 'cellist as Herr Muetze.

The harpist, Signor Quintelli, has proved a favorite, being compelled to respond to numerous requests for solos. He plays with temperament and good technique.

The second part of the concert contained the melodious cantata, Cowen's "Rose Maiden," by the chorus of The Choral Society and the Festival Orchestra, Mr. Edward H. Munson conducting. In every community there is one musical enthusiast who does the work for pure love of it, and is content with the returns as they come. Mr. Munson is the man in this instance to whom the community is indebted, having worked with indefatigable interest and patience from the organization of the chorus, through all the trying hours of the rehearsals, and in the excellent results last night he was fully repaid—nothing finer could have been desired. The chorus stood forth a brilliant body of voices, prompt in attack, even in body and tone, and imbued with an enthusiasm for which the conductor was wholly responsible, and which he no doubt will gladly share. His training has been shown to the public so often, that every one knows what Mr. Munson can do with a chorus. His contrats were fine and he reached great climaxes with the chorus and orchestra.

Mrs. Horace R. Dowell, of Raleigh, again appeared as one of the soloist in the cantata, and her singing was an apparition of the soul through the medium of tone by an inspired artist. She completely captivated the large audience, as she did on the night of the first concert.

Mrs. Joseph D Edwards, who had the contralto solo parts, well known throughout the city for the sweet and appealing qualities of her voice, executed her solos in a truly artistic manner. The audience showed its appreciation of her splendid work by pronounced applause. Mr. Harry R. Bates, baritone, whose rich voice blends beautifully with Mrs. Dowell's, was accorded much applause by the audience. He is one of the finest baritone singers in the State and Wilmington people delight to hear him. Mr. Joseph B. Fenley, the lyric tenor, appeared to good advantage in his several selections and deserved every bit of the salvo of applause given him. The three local soloist scored a triumph and in the opinion of many they never appeared to better advantage than in the concert last night. They shared liberally in the honors of the evening.

Wilmington is justly proud of its superb chorus and if the concerts of The Choral Society are encouraged and supported and they should be will prove an educational factor.

The members of the chorus are:

AGAINST PROSECUTING LABOR.

Washington, June 2.—An amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill adopted by the House today, stipulates that no part of the $100,000 provided in the bill in the enforcement of the Sherman anti-trust law can be used in the prosecution of labor organizations.

You dont believe all the fish stories you hear; "the one that got away" is always the big one; but it is seldom as big a "whopper" as the story he tells about it.
